

NEW YEAR, NEW SOUNDS FROM MARTEN

Marten will introduce two new loudspeaker models at the annual Consumer Electronics Show, to be held in Las Vegas January 7-10, 2010.

CES 2010 will be the world premier of the Marten Getz, which fills the gap between the Miles 3 and Bird models in the Heritage series, and makes the series complete. This three-way loudspeaker employs a 1-inch ceramic tweeter, a 7-inch ceramic midrange driver, and a 9-inch woofer, all from Accuton. The woofer is supplemented by a newly-developed passive radiator, also from Accuton. The combination of active and passive drivers provides even, highly-controlled bass and creates a realistic, full-bodied sonic performance. Frequency response is 30-40,000 Hz.

Projected retail price is $20,000. Available finishes include walnut, cherry, maple, and black, all in piano lacquer. You can listen to the Marten Heritage Getz in these rooms at

CES: EAR USA, Venetian Room 29-218

Bladelius Design Group, Venetian Room 30-322

Marten will also demonstrate a new reference model at CES 2010. The Marten Coltrane Momento will complete Marten's Coltrane series. The Momento is a three-way loudspeaker that employs four 9-inch ceramic woofers, four 9-inch passive radiators, and one 7-inch ceramic midrange driver, all from Accuton, plus a 1-inch diamond tweeter from Jantzen Audio. The body of the cabinet is made of 20mm carbon fibre laminate, while the front, back, top, and bottom are made of 30mm solid wood. The stands are made of polished stainless steel with carbon fibre pucks and cones by Black Diamond Racing.

Projected retail price is $165,000. Available finishes: piano black sides with oak, maple, cherry, or walnut wood panels.

You can hear the Marten Coltrane Momento in the Vitus Audio room, Venetian 30-217.
